On Council duties

As an active member of EAAE from 2016, I'm specifically involved in the organization of international workshops on Architectural Education focused on the conditions on which Architectural Education can flourish and on the recent issues of the remote teaching. For the future, I'm interested in developing the arising Training Academy to support colleagues in Architectural Education who are specifically focusing on design teaching, as I strongly believe in the great opportunity, offered by the EAAE network, of sharing experiences and setting a lively community to discuss these special issues rarely developed in our local institutions.

Concerning the organization of future seminars and workshop, I'm interested in promoting activities focusing on Innovation in Architectural education. Therefore I would aim to strengthen the exchanges and the relationships with European and extra European parallel networks such as ACSA in the USA, AASA in the Asian-Australian area and ASC in China.

I'm presently coordinating the organization of the EAAE General Assembly to be held in Torino in 2023 which topic, School of architectures, will stress the multiplicity of approaches characterizing Architectural education in Europe.

Finally, I consider broadening the active participation (not merely the formal membership) of European Schools of architecture on EAAE activities as an important goal for the EAAE in the forthcoming years. Therefore, I regard trying to involve the Schools from the presently less represented areas in EAAE activities as a strategical target through their involvement in seminars, workshops, research partnerships, and I also aim improving their representativeness in the organization of the EAAE itself.
