Further references

Mia Roth-Čerina has held lectures on her work, research and activities, exhibited her designs as well as mentored work of students, and both have been published in journals and catalogues. She has taken part in public debates and been a guest in conferences, radio and tv programs. Her pro-bono work between 2010 and 2017 focused on organizing free architecture workshops for children and schools, as well as taking part in events aimed at fostering innovation and understanding of the built environment, believing it is the basis for the realization of spatial culture. Since joining the EAAE council in 2018, she has been taking an active part in EAAE's Education Academy and other EAAE activities. She has also taken part in juries of public competitions and national awards. She is fluent in Croatian, English and German.
